PGA+ began its activities in 2012, just three years after the publication of the first national legislation focused on Pharmacovigilance. Since then, the Brazilian and Latin American regulatory environments have been consolidating and aligning themselves with international Pharmacovigilance standards as a precursor to activities related to Patient Safety.

PGA+ fits into this regulatory landscape. Our operations initially focused on Pharmacovigilance in the Brazilian market and gradually expanded to more than 35 countries throughout Latin America, with projects in Patient Safety, Clinical Research, Medical Information, and Customer Service (SAC).
