DIA 2023: Illuminate

Submitting your abstract adds your voice to the collaboration truths that DIA has long stood for—trusted, neutral, knowledge-exchange that results in better regulation and innovation for patients and the global community at large. The selections that are chosen and those that will await another turn push science forward.

Our Track Chairs have highlighted priority topics within their educational tracks to provide direction on content they would like to receive via the Call for Abstracts. You may submit abstracts addressing priority topics and/or topics relevant to the DIA 2023 track descriptions using the sub track field when submitting online. Both priority topics and track-specific topics will be reviewed and considered by the Annual Meeting Program Committee (AMPC)

Today's sessions need to be creative, interactive, unique, and of course, informative—and that means continuing to experiment with new styles of content delivery that gets the audience involved. Meetings are now placing the same amount of importance on engagement as they are on content.

DIA 2023 will offer in-person programming that will bring enhanced opportunities to learn, connect, and collaborate. You will find yourself deeply involved with experts, regulators, patients, and industry leaders as you work together through the incredible challenges faced today to advance science and improve global health.

General Submission Requirements

Please read the following instructions carefully; incorrect or incomplete abstracts will not be considered:

1. All abstracts must be submitted online. The deadline for abstract submissions is Thursday, October 06, 11:59PM ET. This deadline will not be extended.
2. Submitted abstracts must not overtly endorse or recommend a specific product or service. Please review DIA's Policy Concerning Promotion of Products and Services from the Podium at DIA-sponsored Programs
3. Proposed abstract title must reflect the abstract content accurately and concisely.
4. Co-presenters, including Co-Chairs, will not be allowed.
5. Author of the accepted abstract will receive a one-day complimentary registration for the day of their scheduled presentation. A special upgrade registration fee will be made available for those interested in attending the entire Annual Meeting (June 25-29, 2023).

Notification Date

Submitters will be notified of the status of each abstract no later than late January

Timeline:

September 06	Call for General Abstracts opens
October 06	Call for General Abstracts closes
By the end of January, 2023	Abstract Notification

Please note that DIA and the 2023 Annual Meeting Program Committee have the right to request authors to revise abstracts. Potential revisions include direction of topic, blending with another submission, or revising the proposed level of difficulty.

If you have any questions, please contact annualmeetingprogram@diaglobal.org

Forum Abstract

A forum abstract is designed for panel interaction and attendee engagement. The abstract author acts as forum chair, recruiting panel participants and ensuring good representation/diversity in selection. PowerPoint presentations are not required.

Session Abstract

A session abstract is delivered lecture-style from the podium. The abstract author acts as session chair to coordinate efforts in recruiting speakers and manage the session (including the facilitation of question and answers from the audience). PowerPoint presentations are required.

Workshop Abstract

A workshop abstract is designed for hands-on learning with a focus on application. The abstract author is considered the workshop chair and ensures the workshop provides onsite learning in the form of activities or demonstrations, including handouts.

Speaker Authorization for Use of Presentation Materials

Abstract Type: Session Abstract
Submit Date: 8/10/2017 1:29:56 PM Event ID: 18001CFA
Event Title: DIA 2018 Annual Meeting Call for Session and Presentation Abstracts

DIA thanks you for your contributions and continued support of DIA's mission. This outlines our agreement with you regarding your presentation(s) at DIA's meeting.

You, as the undersigned, retain ownership of all copyright and other intellectual property rights in your presentation(s) and accompanying materials. You authorize and grant permission to DIA to use, reproduce, license, sell, display, and distribute copies of your presentation and materials (e.g., PowerPoint slides and/or other handout materials), in any medium or technology (including online) consistent with DIA's nonprofit and tax exempt purposes. You also authorize DIA to record your presentation by any audio, video, or audio-visual means and to use your image, voice, and biographical information in connection with promotion and distribution of DIA's educational offerings and programs, including the right to create a synchronized audiovisual work consisting of your presentation and accompanying materials. You agree to waive any right to royalties or compensation for any of the rights you have granted DIA in this agreement. You also retain the right to use, make, or publish your presentation and materials at any other time or place, as you may determine.

You acknowledge that the views and opinions expressed in your presentation and any written materials that you contribute for the Program are yours and should not be attributed to DIA, its directors, officers, employees, volunteers, members, chapters, councils, Special Interest Area Communities or affiliates, or any organization with which you are employed or affiliated.

To the best of your knowledge, you agree that your presentation and accompanying materials do not violate any proprietary or personal rights of others (including copyright, trademark, patent, or privacy rights), are factually accurate, and contain nothing defamatory or otherwise unlawful. You have full authority to enter into this agreement and have obtained all necessary permissions or licenses from any individuals or organizations whose material is included or used in your presentation or materials.

If you are an employee or representative of a government agency and if your presentation is presented as such, this presentation and accompanying materials may be considered government works and in the "public domain;" therefore, DIA may use your presentation and materials as provided above. The other provisions of this agreement remain in effect.

☐ On behalf of the Author, I agree to the Speaker Authorization for Use of Presentation Materials. Required Field
